Summary

The conviction stemmed from false information provided on his registration application.

Mayer answered “No” to disclosure question number 4 “Are there any unpaid judgements and/or unpaid debts outstanding against you?” However, at the time, there were two judgement debts registered against him.

This failure to disclose in his registration application breached REBBA section 40(1)(a). Mayer was convicted on one count of contravening REBBA and was sentenced to a $3,500 fine.
