Refunds

Any eligible amounts will be refunded to the registrant or applicant, in the payment format originally used to make the payment. For example, a registrant who paid online by credit card would have the refund amount returned to that credit card. Refunds issued to a third party require the written consent of the registrant or applicant.

Once an application has been processed, the application fee is not refundable.

If an application is incomplete or abandoned prior to approval, the $50 application review fee applicable to New and Reinstatement applications is retained and the application fee itself is refundable.

All other fees are non-refundable.
